Iowa State Fair Wrap Up 2012

Looking back at this year's Iowa State Fair, I see things that went really well and others that could have gone better. The new arrival times seemed to work for everyone. And maybe it's because Anne and I have been doing this Superintendent thing for 6 years now, but overall penning worked out well too. It really helps us out to have you call or email your pen requests. We don't always get enough information from the Fair to know sizes & numbers of animals to be penned.

Thanks to all of you who showed this year, those former exhibitors who came to watch and visit with new and old friends, and a special thank you to Janice Schwennen our show secretary. What would we do without her. She keeps our show running smoothly, knows all the rules and ins and outs of ADGA. And she starts our show mornings off with Maria's wonderful rendition of "High on a hill was a lonely goat."

Also thank you to Kyle Smith, Vicki Ranschau, Carol Kuhl, and Tara Schwennen for all the long hours they spend at the table announcing, keeping statistics and handing out ribbons. Thank you Jerry Schwennen for the wonderful job you do as ring man.

Thanks to those of you who took time to vote for the 2014 judge. Our judge for 2013 will be Dan Laney and for 2014 you have voted for Aaron Carter. Soon I will be contacting him so he can pencil us in and after the first of the year the Fair will start sending out contracts.

As for things that could have gone better, I will be working with Special Events to tweak the release of exhibitors.

We have had requests over the years to add Nigerian Dwarfs to the breeds shown at the Iowa State Fair. Our answer has been to check the Fair book for rules for adding a new breed or species. This year Jennifer Norberg has taken the initiative to contact Nigerian Dwarf breeders to see about interest in this. She has made excellent progress in getting exhibitors from out of state and a few in -state, but we still need more Iowa breeders to fulfill the requirements. So if you know of anyone in Iowa with Nigerian Dwarfs who is interested in showing let us know as we are very close to making this happen, thanks to Jennifer's hard work. The Fair board makes this decision in mid October so we need to know ASAP. Thank you again to all of you who make our job so much easier. We look forward to seeing all of you next year.

~Ron & Anne Dengler

Crock Pot Italian Noodle Soup with Goat Milk Mozzarella

Along the lines of the previous stromboli post, here's another favorite recipe in the Italian vein that features the goat milk mozzarella. And it is equally easy - set it up in the crock pot in the morning, 30 minutes before dinner add the uncooked pasta, and serve with plenty of grated or sliced mozzarella on top, melting beautifully and yummily into the soup! A large crockpot works best for this. If you would like to use one of the smaller ones, I suggest taking the entire recipe in half.

Ingredients

- 1 lb Italian sausage (I use homemade Italian goat sausage)
- 1 28-oz can diced tomatoes OR 1 quart jar home canned tomatoes (chopped as needed)
- 1 6 oz can tomato paste
- 2 onions, chopped
- 5 large garlic cloves, thinly sliced
- 2 table spoon dried Italian herbs - really this is flexible, whatever combination of basil and oregano you would like, sage is also a good addition
- 2 bay leaves
- 6 cups chicken broth
- 10 oz rotini pasta (bow-ties are also good)
- Goat milk mozzarella cheese

Steps that can be done the night before...

Brown the sausage. Chop the onions and slice the garlic cloves. Assemble the jars of tomatoes and the dried herbs and bay leaves.

In the morning...

Put all ingredients except the pasta and cheese into the crock pot. Cook on low for about 8 hours (longer by an hour or two is truly fine) or on high for 4 to 6.

The final steps...

Add the pasta and allow about 30 minutes for it to cook in the soup. Slice or grate your cheese, or if you're using the pre-grated variety, enjoy the convenience! My goat milk mozzarella is more of the fresh mozzarella variety, most recognizable as buffalo mozzarella/mozzarella di bufala...but obviously, made from goat milk, not buffalo's. Wow we'd really have to rethink pasture rotation if we did that! Anyway, this type is best sliced.

Serve the soup into wide flat bowls (well...because that allows for more cheese...) and scatter the cheese across the top. Watch it melt as you carry it to the table!

HAPPY COOKING!!!!!!
